THE DESTINATION: Cabin Lodging

Rustic wood cabins offer the perfect cheerful getaway after a great day of snowmobiling. These secluded lodges make for a quiet retreat where one can warm up by the fire and enjoy good company. Each cabin has three bedrooms and is equipped with a cozy living space, a full kitchen, and grand windows that overlook the snow covered landscape. Rest and relax while dinner is prepared.

DINNER: At Your Doorstep

These inclusive accommodations allow for a celebration of home cooked food and delicious drinks right at your feet - the chef comes to you! For two nights the chef of New England Outdoor Center will be preparing a fantastic dinner for our group right in one of our cabins - no better way to end a day of sledding. For the other three evenings, our very own Gary Pruitt will be your chef, and yes, he can actually cook (not a paid advertisement). These family style meals and cabin lodging epitomize the spirit and camaraderie of Bonvoyage Snow Adventures, so don't miss out this season.
